AN OLD MAN'S EPITAPH.

Old Abigail Henderson Had No Confidence in Mankind.

One of Depew's stories at the Buffalo club dinner which does not appear in his reported speech was told by his friend Mr. Bishop, for a long time president of the New Haven road, says the Buffalo Courier. "He is now," said Mr. Depew, "resting in his old age in honorable retirement and reflection upon the sins which are frequent with a railway president. He told me the other day that when he visited, for the first time in 60 years, the place of his birth, he began to inquire about the old lady and old maid, Abigail Henderson, who was his teacher in his early youth—before he went to the academy and thence to Yale—and, finding no record of her among the reminiscences of the town, went to the churchyard and there discovered that she had erected a reminiscence of herself. It was a monument, on which was inscribed. 'Abigail Henderson, died aged 96. Put your trust in the Lord and have no confidence in man.' If Abigail had been the recipient of the honor you have showered on me to-night she would have reversed that verdict. She might not have expressed her doubt as to the Lord, but she certainly would have been reassured about man."

"Good Morning" in Samoa.

I had to go down to Apia five or six different times, and each time there were 100 black boys to say "Good morning" to. This was rather a tedious business; and, as very few of them answered at all, and those who did, only with a grunt like a pig's, it was several times in my mind to give up this piece of politeness. The last time I went down, I was almost decided; but when I came to the first pair of black boys and saw them looking so comic and so melancholy, I began the business over again. This time I thought more of them seemed to answer, and when I got down to the tail-end where the carts were running, I received a very pleasant surprise, for one of the boys, who was pushing at the back of a cart, lifted up his head, and called out to me in wonderfully good English: "You good man—always say good morning." It was sad to think that these poor creatures should think so much of so small a piece of civility, and strange that (thinking so) they should be so dull as not to return it.—Robert Louis Stevenson's "Letters to a Boy," in St. Nicholas.

Not an Insult.

Maj. Lomax, of the United States army, visiting in Canada soon after the war of 1812, was entertained in Quebec by the officers of one of the royal regiments. After dinner, speeches and toasts being in order, one of the British officers, having imbibed too generously of the champagne, gave as a toast: "The president of the United States, dead or alive." The toast was accepted with laughter. Maj. Lomax rose to respond, saying: "Permit me to give as my toast: 'The prince regent, drunk or sober.'" The British officer sprang instantly to his feet, and in angry tones demanded: "Sir, do you intend that remark as an insult?" To which Maj. Lomax calmly replied: "No, sir; as the reply to one."

THE KEELEY CURE

Is a special boon to business men who, having drifted unconsciously into the drink habit and awaken to find the disease of alcoholism fastened upon them, rendering them unfit to manage affairs requiring a clear brain. A four weeks course of treatment at the

PITTSBURG KEELEY INSTITUTE,
No. 4246 Fifth Avenue,

restores to them all their powers, mental and physical, destroys the abnormal appetite, and restores them to the condition they were in before they indulged in stimulants. This has been done in more than 1600 cases treated here, and among them some of your own neighbors, to whom we can refer with confidence as to the absolute safety and efficiency of the Keeley Cure. The fullest and most searching investigation is invited. Send for pamphlet giving full information.

KAFFIR CORN.

Proves to Flourish in All Kinds of Climate.

Is Remarkably Hardy, Prolific and Produces a Cereal That Is Better for Feeding Purposes Than the Ordinary Indian Corn of Commerce.

Kaffir corn, first introduced on the American continent from the Kaffir country, in Africa, less than a decade since, is still an unknown product to nine-tenths of the people of the United States.

At first planted here and there as a curiosity, it was found to grow readily in all localities and under all conditions, and experiments developed the fact that it would mature a crop in the driest and hottest seasons on the high western plains. A more extended planting of the new grain and a comparison of results obtained soon developed the fact that whether the season was wet or dry, cool or hot, long or short, this new product would thrive on all kinds of soils with the minimum of care and cultivation, and planted any time between the first of April and the middle of July it would mature an absolutely sure crop of grain and fodder before the frosts of autumn.

The stalk looks something like a single shoot of common corn, but shorter, attaining a henght usually from 4½ to six feet, and having pointed leaves of a rich green color. The grain forms in a head at the extreme point of the shoot, where the tassel is on ordinary corn, the heads being from seven to 12 inches in length and six to eight in circumference, and when ripe look like great white or red plumes.

The grains are almost round, a little larger than a grain of rice and much resembling a grain of wheat in interior structure.

There are two varieties, red and white, the latter being the favorite crop. Though raised as an experiment here and there throughout the west for several years, it was not until the present year that it became a prominent crop. When the drought of last spring killed the wheat and oats and seemed almost certain to ruin the corn, the few who had had experience with the new grain began to advise their neighbors to plant Kaffir corn, as it would grow all right in dry weather, and they could thus at least raise food for their stock. The newspapers took up the advice and soon farmers were planting Kaffir corn, utilizing the ground where wheat and oats had failed at planting on sod or scattered patches where early corn had been burned out.

The planting was continued until well along in August, the acreage being in many sections greater than that ever devoted to a single crop. In Oklahoma alone nearly 50,000 acres were planted with the new crop. And every grain of it planted grew and thrived to maturity, and before the summer was over the farmers began to wonder what they would do with it all. They knew it was good food for stock, but there was not stock enough in the territory to consume it, and the product was yet so new that it was not recognized in the outside markets.

Experience had already developed the fact that it made a most admirable feed, either to winter stock or fatten them for market, but with an abundance of the grain on hand Oklahoma farmers soon discovered that it was better for horses than either corn or oats, making them fat and stout, and giving them a sleek, glossy appearance.

When it came to feeding hogs it was found that they gained flesh more rapidly than when fed on common corn, and poultrymen have found the Kaffir grain an admirable egg producer, and when fed unthrashed the fowls are given exercise in picking it from the head.

The boys and girls soon discovered that it would pop as well as popcorn, the grains popping out large, white and tender, and women in the country found that boiled like rice the grain was excellent eaten with cream and sugar, that mashed into a pulpy mass it made an excellent pudding, and it was also a first-class substitute for hominy.

Still the quantity produced was so great that the people continued to wonder what they would do with it.

The owner of the roller mills at Medicine Lodge, Kan., ran some of the grain through his cornmeal grinder, and produced a meal pronounced in every way equal to the ordinary cornmeal, but he was not content with this, but rigged up a special set of burrs and produced a new product that bids fair to create a revolution in the world's breadstuffs—Kaffir flour.

Some of this flour was made into light bread. The bread was fully as white as bread made from second grade wheat flour, and was sweet and palatable.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Wanted the Cow Most.

A sensation was created at Carlisle, Pa., the other night at the home of Henry Uundorf, where a wedding was to have taken place. The bride-to-be Henry Dundorf, where a wedding was Joseph Derr, a farmer residing at Plainfield, was the recalcitant groom. The guests had arrived and the wedding dinner was in preparation at the Dundorf home, but the groom did not arrive, and the bride began shedding tears. Then the groom appeared and in a business like way informed the girl and her father that the marriage would have to be postponed, as the money he had saved toward defraying wedding expenses he now intended to use in the purchase of a cow. Derr then left the house.

"Excuse Mistakes."

A good-natured mistress lately acted as amanuensis for a negro maid who could neither read nor write. The servant had not enough intelligence to guess that the lady who wielded the pen for her was well known in the world of letters, and made what is provincially called "a pretty penny" by her use of the quill now called into requisition to inscribe from dictation several letters to southern friends of the dictator. To her scribe's intense amusement each epistle concluded with the petition: "Please excuse all mistakes."

BURIAL OF A GREAT ARTIST.

The late exhumation of Paganini's remains, near Parma, brings to memory all the other peregrinations they have gone through since they were first taken to the Nice cemetery in 1840—when Nice still belonged to Italy. Being refused there, however, because Paganini was not of Nice, the remains were taken to Marseelles, where they were also refused admittance. Not even Genoa, where Paganini was born, would receive his body because an epidemic was then raging. A like refusal was received at Cannes.

Shall I tell you why it was so hard to find a resting place for his bones? It was a common belief that Paganini had sold his soul to the devil, who would take it immediately after the poor man died! So, for five years, the body was left on the rocks of San Ferreol, where it might be still had not the duchess of Parma insisted in having it buried in the Villa Gaime. In 1855, the coffin had to be changed, and in 1876 the body was again removed, this time to the cemetery of Parma. Then, however, all the people in Parma crowded the river side, down which the body was carried by night, to the light of hundreds of torches. Baron Attilius Paganini, a grandson of the violinist, was also present. Once more, in 1893, the vault was opened, and the features of the great man were again seen. And now again the vault has been opened for repairs. A friend writes and says that the face is still perfectly preserved. The lower part of the body is mere bone; the face, however, is as perfect as ever, and has been photographed. Baron Achilles, Paganini's son (now an old man), has caused the body to be placed in another coffin, and this time a large piece of glass has been placed in the coffin. Thus any artist visiting Parma may now see the features of Paganini by asking Baron Achilles' permission.

I am told that much of the music which bears Paganini's name was never written by him at all. His real compositions, however, are now going to be published, and they will be a surprise to artists on account of their mechanical difficulties, which will be a perfect test of ability to many of our modern violinists—great as they may be. He used to practice exercises by the hour together with a weight tied to his right arm. Then after this weight was removed his playing sounded as if it were a complete orchestra playing. There are some old people who still remember hearing him practice in this way. Whilst practicing he would also walk up and down the room, rarely looking at the music on the desk. From his youth he always had the preference for one bow. It never left him. It was very long and was mended over and over again. It always lies on the chimney piece of the Green room in the Villa Gaione. It stands in a gold column, protected by a crystal shade, and on it is a paper telling what it is.—Footlights.

ATTENTIVE TO CATS.

Two Paris Women Who Daily Feed Scores of Them.

A lady who lives near the Jardin des Plantes, or old Parisian zoo, is a providence to the stray cats of her neighborhood. She feeds daily a hundred at the Bercy wine market, where they are allowed to live in the cellars. This lady believes in the transmigration of souls, and says she feels as if she was formerly incarnate in a woman who hated animals. Her extreme sensibility to their sufferings is, she also feels, the punishment meted to her. She has in an outhouse a number of mutilated and sick cats that she rescued.

Another lady attends to the cats in the Palais de Justice, the Central markets, the prefecture of police and the Sorbonne. There are 30 cats at the Palais de Justice. They are in the habit of being regularly fed. When anything prevents their benefactress coming in the nick of time they go out to meet her, and follow her to the court at the west side of the palais. A number of policemen witness her arrival, and help. She is pleased to think that she has awakened a spirit of humanity in the police force. Policemen who know her are loth to destroy cats, or to pass them on to vivisectors.

A FEATHER-WEIGHT TRUNK.

Composed of Cane and Canvas, It Is Both Light and Strong.

A new material for trunks is much used by a Leipsic firm. It is surprisingly light in weight, while its resistance is equal to several layers of the best sole leather. A combination of strong linen canvas, with interwoven cane, is very cleverly applied for the manufacture of trunks. The straps of cane used in the material are about one-eighth of an inch wide, while only a trifle less than a sixteenth of an inch in thickness. They are interwoven so closely into the double flax cover that they form an elastic surface capable of considerable resistance, and superior both in flexibility and density to leather. The trunks made of this material are considerably lighter than leather trunks, and are much more pleasant to handle than the old wooden trunk. For traveling in Europe they are particularly advantageous, as they will save their cost in excess baggage in a short time.

"Mother's Pies."

We none of us realize that it is ourselves who change, and not the food that delighted us in our youth. Said a crusty, hard-to-please husband: "Wife, I wish you would make pies that would taste as good as my mother's used to do." "Well, my dear, you run out and bring me in a pailful of water, a hodful of coal and an armful of wood, just as you used to do for your mother, and maybe you will like my pies as well." He concluded the pies would answer the purpose just as they were. —Good Housekeeping.

A Ravenous Insect.

Commenting on the amount which a spider actually consumed during 24 hours, Sir J. Lubbock says: "At a similar rate of consumption a man weighing 160 pounds will require a whole fat ox for breakfast, an ox and five sheep for dinner and for supper two bullocks, eight sheep and four hogs, and just before retiring nearly four barrels of fresh fish."—Chicago Chronicle.

FIRESIDE FRAGMENTS.

—Gum arabic and gum tragacanth in equal parts, dissolved in hot water, make the best and most convenient mucilage to keep in the house.

—A Rich Pudding. — One pound of raisins stoned, one pound of currants, half a pound of beef suet, quarter of a pound of sugar, two spoonfuls of flour, eight eggs, a cupfuls of blanched almonds and one of sweetmeats. Mix well and boil in a mold for eight hours. —N. Y. Observer.

—Jumbles.—One-half pound butter; one pound sugar mixed to cream; two eggs; two tablespoons extract of rose; add flour enough to make dough stiff enough to roll out quite thin, cut in any shape, bake on well greased cake tins, when baked should be one-sixth of an inch thick.—Mrs. S. B. Sheets, in Womankind.

—Coffee Cream Cake.—For any good layer cake make a filling as follows: Three tablespoonfuls of coffee and a cup and a half of cold water; steep and strain. Thicken with corn starch, sweeten. Add whipped cream to taste. Milk may be added to the coffee before thickening, in place of the cream. It tastes like coffee ice-cream soda.—Farmer's Voice.

—Apple Rice Pudding.—Pare, quarter and core three tart apples and spread loosely in a buttered agate pudding dish. Add three-quarters cupful of sugar and three tablespoonfuls rice to one quart of milk; turn the mixture over the apples, spread a few bits of butter over the tops and bake in a moderate oven four hours. Serve hot with sweetened whipped cream.—Orange Judd Farmer.

—Steamed Bread and Fruit Pudding. —One pint of bread broken into small pieces. Add one cup of milk, one-third of a cup of molasses, one egg, well beaten, and one cup of raisins, stoned and cut in halves. Mix thoroughly, then sift in half a teaspoonful each of cinamon, grated nutmeg, salt and soda. Turn into a buttered pudding boiler and cook in boiling water about two hours.—Chicago Chronicle.

—Boiled Plum Pudding. — Half-pound white bread crumbs, four ounces sugar, four ounces chopped suet, four ounces raisins, four ounces currants, half-coffeecupful milk, one egg or two yolks, one teaspoonful mixed ground spices, a little salt and a pinch of soda. Mix the dry articles together, the bread grated or chopped very fine; add milk and egg with salt and soda dissolved in them; tie up in a bag and boil for four hours.—Chicago Record.

WHISKERS UNDER HIS VEST.

How One Man Employs His Hirsute Appendages to Advantage.

"Are beards lucrative, or, in other words, can one make any money by wearing them long?" said a young man about town, reports the Philadelphia Call. "Upon the first thought and perhaps even after one has evolved the question carefully in his mind, he would reply no. But they are wrong, as the following case of an old artist will show. By 'old artist' is not meant a genius like Harnet, Angelo or men of that class, but a painter who, besides being noted for his superior work in portraits, is conspicuous for the quantity of hair which sprouts from his chin. This gentleman, it is said, has won many a wager on his beard, which is of such great length that he is compelled to wear it underneath his vest. No one ever sees the hirsute growth, except when he exhibits it to settle a bet. To saunter into a saloon and get into conversation with some of the customers there has become a hobby with him, for in doing so he has an object. He frequently gets a drink in consequence of betting with some other fellow who has a fairly long beard as to whose is the longest, and it is seldom that he loses a wager of this kind, for his whiskers extend to the bottom of his waistcoat."

MUSIC HATH STRENGTH.

Piano Players Are Heavy Weights on the Ivory Keys.

It requires more force to sound a note gently on the piano than to lift the lid of a kettle. A German composer has figured that minimum pressure of the finger playing pianissimo is equal to 110 grams—a quarter of a pound. Few kettle lids weigh more than two ounces. At times a force of six pounds is thrown upon a single key to produce a solitary effect. With chords the force is generally spread over the various notes sounded simultaneously, though a greater output of force is undoubtedly expended. This is what gives pianists the wonderful strength in their fingers so often commented on.

A story used to be told of Paderewski that he could crack a pane of plate glass half an inch thick merely by placing one hand upon it, as if upon a piano keyboard, and striking it sharply with its middle finger. Chopin's last study in C minor has a passage which takes two minutes and five seconds to play. The total pressure brought to bear on this, it is estimated, is equal to three full tons. The average "tonnage" of an hour's piano playing of Chopin's music varies from 12 to 84 tons.

A TOAD BAROMETER.

The Creature, in Its Own Way, Predicts Rain and Shine.

A remarkable story is told in the New York Tribune about a curious living barometer in a conservatory at Plainfield, N. J. The indicator of weather changes is a diminutive tree toad, whose apartment is so arranged that the slightest change in the density of the air is foretold with wonderful accuracy. The toad was caught at Feltville a few months ago, and Mrs. Lissignolo placed the little reptile in a large glass jar. Standing at an angle in the jar about two-thirds full of water is a small but perfectly formed ladder, and upon this the toad rests continually, never moving a muscle except when a change in the weather is to occur. When the earth is dry and the skies clear, the toad squats contentedly upon the topmost rung of the ladder. Just as soon as storm approaches, and many hours before it can be seen or felt in New Jersey, the tree toad begins to descend in the ladder step by step. The nearer the storm comes the lower the toad goes, until at close approach of the stormy weather it sits half submerged in the water. The little fellow has been christened "Mr. Dunn, of Plainfield."

AIDS TO MEMORY.

They Are Oftener a Detriment Than of Any Real Value.

As to the ordinary loss of memory produced by advancing years, it is strange how proper names are always the first to go; even those of our intimate friends often temporarily vanish—which, when we are about to introduce them to strangers, is rather embarrassing. Next to them, to judge from my own experience, are synonyms. This is inconvenient in literary composition, and necessitates the frequent use of the "Thesaurus," writes James Payn in the Illustrated London News. What is very unfortunate, this only makes matters worse, for there is nothing more certain than that the constant use of helps to memory causes its destruction. By constantly referring to a "ready reckoner" persons have been known to have destroyed all power of calculation. On the other hand, nothing so strengthens the memory as the exercise of it, and when this is not intermitted, but kept up as in youth, we find that, as in the late Mr. Brandram's case, old age is no bar to the most perfect recollection. Indeed, it is probable, as Sydney Smith observes, that the decay of memory in old men probably proceeds as frequently from the very little interest they take in what is passing around them as from any mental decay. Sir Benjamin Brodie held the same opinion: "The old man is not stimulated by ambition as when he felt that he had many years of life before him. He has probably withdrawn from his former pursuits, and has substituted no others for them, and we know that the mind, as well as the body, requires constant exercise to keep it in a healthy state."

IN JAPAN.

The New Woman Is Largely in Evidence in the Flowery Kingdom.

During a description of the woman of Japan a correspondent of the St. Louis Dispatch says:

The girls' middle schools are like our public day schools. The education given is excellent and quite up to all modern requirements, while at the same time the characteristic elements of a Japanese lady's education are preserved.

The traditional accomplishments of a Japanese lady were, however, not forgotten, and there were rooms set apart for giving instructions in the arrangement of flowers, the details of the tea ceremony, and in playing the goto. Without proficiency in these three accomplishments no Japanese lady is thought to be completely educated.

The technical and the industrial schools for girls in Japan are admirable institutions. One of the most interesting girls' schools is undoubtedly the school for peeresses at Tokio. In this the empress takes the keenest interest; she visits the school every week, and knows all the girls by name. The students are daughters of the "daimios" and noblemen. If the empress had not herself taken the lead in the movement for the higher education of the women of the noble classes it is doubtful if Japanese noblemen would have consented to send their girls to a public day school; that they do so is proof of the earnestness with which the Japanese have adopted modern western education.

FRENCH VIOLINS ARE BEST.

German and English Instruments Are Lacking Tone and Finish.

Probably there is no musical instrument made in such infinite diversity of quality as the violin. The lowest grades come from Germany, and are sold at retail from $2 to $4.

Even the very cheapest, when properly played, says the Boston Globe, yield a very fair tone in skillful hands, though, of course, the "carrying power" is small. These fiddles are made from woods stamped into the required shape under great pressure, the backs from maple or sycamore and the tops from pine, the whole being finished off very rapidly by some quick-drying spirit varnish. Very often a fancy label, bearing the name of some well-known maker now dead, is pasted inside, in order to delude the unwary; while at times a semblance of antiquity is artfully imparted, the marks of wear being imitated remarkably well. Occasionally it happens that people who have slight knowledge of violins are taken in by these ingenious frauds.

France unquestionably holds the first position in producing high-class modern violins. The English instruments are usually heavy, both in substance and in tone, while those of the best French make are nearly always exquisite in model, workmanship and tone. The finest Strads, Amatis and all the glorious rest are copied with a fidelity little short of the marvelous.

AT THE JEWELERS.

Rings for men continue to be richly carved and chased, Indian style, with stones imbedded.

The silver skirt grip, a practical device for securing the back of the skirt to the belt, recommends itself to tidy women.

Silver pen extractors are a new accessory for the writing desk this season, and, although small, are strong enough to extract the most stubborn pen from its holder and fill a long-felt want.

The present mania for Louis XV. styles has added to the sumptuousness of the modern woman's jewel case, for many of the brooches, coronets and watches are copies of the old court jewelry.

PEN POINTS.

Don't persist in error—after you're found out; and don't be found out if you can avoid it by persisting in it.

Paste this in your hat: "The easiest way to become immortal is to be the first to say what is self-evident.

Cambria Freeman.

EBENSBURG, CAMBRIA CO., PA.,

FRIDAY, - - - - MARCH 20, 1896.

MEETING OF THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE.

The members of the Cambria County Democratic committee are hereby summoned to meet in convention at the COURT HOUSE, EBENSBURG, MONDAY, APRIL 13th, 1896, at 1o'clock P. M., for the purpose of electing six delegates to the Democratic State Convention, three congressional conferees, three senatorial conferees, and to transact such other business as may be properly brought to their attention.

Many Democrats are of the opinion that the county convention should be held earlier this year than in the past year or two, and for the purpose of getting an expression of the party on that question, each committeeman will, prior to the meeting, inquire of the Democrats of his district, to ascertain their wishes on the subject Voters having a preference as to the date for the county convention are requested to see their respective committeemen so that their opinions may be heard at the meeting of the committee.

H. A. ENGLEHART,
Chairman Cambria County Democratic committe.
Ebensburg, Pa., March 18th, 1896.

THE New York World, of Monday, after making a poll of nearly every state in the union predicts the nomination of William McKinley at the St. Louis convention.

HON. J. D. HICKS, congressman from this district, is beginning to comprehend that when a candidate is needed in his party a "chicken raider" stands on the same plane as one who bore the "heat and burden of the day." The "old soldier" business cuts no ice except when it can be used to the advantage of the patriots who are managing the g. o. p. for what there is in it.

A DISPATCH from London, on Monday says: United States Minister Terrell has started for America on board the steamer Fuerst Bismarck on leave of absence. It is now two months since there has been any general massacre in Armenia, and the porte has assured Mr. Terrell that Americans shall not be molested nor their work interfered with during his absence. Mr. J. W. Riddle, secretary of legation, will act as charge d' affairs while Mr. Terrell is away.

IN some parts of the state a movement is being started to have the constitution of Pennsylvania amended so as to have the legislature meet every year instead of every two years, as at present. The only excuse for the movement is the fact that senators, legislators, and the hundreds of clerks, messengers, pasters and folders etc., would draw a salary every year instead of every two Pennsylvania is not suffering for want of an annual meeting of the legislature and the people should put their foot upon the project.

IN regard to the replenishment of the treasury gold reserve, the Republican enemies of the administration are asking how long the gold will stay there. The answer is that there would be no further need of this gold reserve if the Republicans in congress should provide for the redemption of greenbacks that are used to draw the gold out of the treasury. But congress refused this relief and partisan dishonesty blames the embarrasments of the treasury upon the administration that is struggling to prevent the consequences of congressional inaction.

THAT the Venezuelan dispute between the United States and England is at last in a fair way of being amicably adjusted was indicated in a statement made in the house of commons on Monday by Secretary George E. Curzon. It also seems to settle one thing sure, and that is war between the United States and England will never occur. It would seem also that while there is a pushing of the Monroe doctrine principle to the rear, yet Great Britain and Europe recognize the power of this country as a sort of guardian over the smaller and weaker American republics.

MR. SINGERLY's Philadelphia Record recently said it "does not believe Pattison is bothering his head about the presidential nomination" and the New York Sun thus expresses its agreement with this statement: "He never bothers his head. It is unnecessary. Mr. Harrity attends to things. He does the bothering, and does it so much and so well that half the Democrats in Philadelphia refuse to vote, and the Republican majority in the state is hovering in the neighborhood of three hundred thousand." The Sun has a wonderfully accurate understanding of the situation.

IN the house, at Washington, on Friday, after a two days' debate by a vote of 173 to 59, unseated Gasten A. Robbins, from the Fourth Alabama district, and decided that his Republican opponent, W. F. Aldrich, was elected and entitled to the seat. All the Republicans, with the exception of Mr. White, of Illinois, and the Populists and three Democrats, Messrs. Cobb, Dockery, and Dearmond, of Missouri, voted for the majority report. The fifty-nine votes against the report were cast by Democrats, with one exception. Mr. Aldrich was at once sworn in. Mr. Robbins was a member of the last house.

THE British steamer Matadi, which sailed from Sierra Leone on February 5 has been totally destroyed at Boma by an explosion of gunpowder. Boma (or Bomma) is on the Congo river, about forty miles from its mouth. Twenty-two of the Matadi's crew, two passengers and sixteen native laborers were killed. Sixteen of the crew escaped without serious injuries. The Matadi had on board ten tons of gunpowder, a quantity which sufficiently accounts for the disastrous effects of the explosion. The mails and the specie which were on board were saved. The victims of the accident were asleep at the time of the disaster. The officers of the steamer escaped.

PROBABLY when the President announced his Venezuelan views to congress, says the Pittsburg Times, he was unaware that it would be the crowning act of his life, and as time wears away overshadow some of his errors. But already the action has borne fruit. The only evil which followed it was the brief flurry in the New York stock market while the benefits are greater than can be fully realized. For a short time English newspapers were disposed to bluster, and even talked war. Then, as the United States stood by the doctrine of America for Republican government, growing more enthusiastic and determined every day, Great Britain saw that the time to Bluff this country had gone by. Now the British government is as ready to argue the question as anybody. Her "Blue Book" is not a confession of her willingness, but the first step of the argument.

In taking a firm step the United States has made a sure and lasting peace with the rest of the universe No real or possible enemy of the present or future has anything to hope in the way of an advance on this continent. In support of the president every man voiced the same sentiment. The ingenuity, the mechanical skill, the resources, the men of the country, stood by the declaration that we would tolerate no extension of any privileges to any foreign country. We are no divided country. The loyal heart of America has no artery that leads to Wall street that should be timid,

Great Britain bluffed, but she had misconceived the American spirit. As rapidly as she can she is getting to the point of arbitration, which is all that any American wants. If she is in the right, which seems improbable, even by her own blue book, this country has no demands to make. But whether Great Britain is right or wrong the federal government has won the crowning battle of the present generation. She has risen to the undisputed mastery of the continent, and the kingdoms of the Eastern hemisphere realize that before attempting any questionable transgression on an American republic, with territorial gain in view, they must show cause to the United States.

ACCORDING to the records of the war department the militia force of the United States now aggregates 9,467,684 men that can take the field in case of need. Every state now has a national guard and the organized militia numbers 115-669, of which 102,604 compose the infantry arm, 5,215 the cavalry, 5,267 the artillery, 649 special corps and 1,443 general and staff officers.

Last year the total appropriation allowed the militia by congress amounted to $400,000, while the states expended $2,934,974 for the same purpose. It is estimated that mobilization of the militia could be effected in the various states in from three hours in the District of Columbia to seventy-two hours in Oregon.

Illinois could place 852,625 men in the field; Pennsylvania, 771,874; Ohio 650,000; New York, 560,000; Indiana, 481,192, and so on down the list. A nation under arms would mean a thrilling response in case of the war department's figures were put to the test by actual proof.

SENATOR CHANDLER, of New Hampshire, in an interview in Washington a few days ago, in regard to the efforts of McKinley's friends to "fry the fat" out of the manufacturers of this country to aid the McKinley campaign said: "I have no doubt that the prevailing impression is correct that there is a wide-spread and systematic boodle campaign carried on from start to finish in the interest of McKinley. Mark Hanna is undoubtedly expending large sums in McKinley's interest, and Hanna is one of the delegates-at-large from the state of Ohio. If the people of this country can understand that they are being hoodwinked by a boodle candidate, whose popularity is manufactured in the interest of highly protected monopolies, they are likely to lose their interest in the principle of protection, and make it warm for such a candidate."

BY a new ruling Commissioner General Stump, of the immigration bureau, with the approval of the secretary of the treasury, has authorized the admission into this country of four English mechanics recently detained at New York on the ground that they were alien contract laborers under contract to set up cotton machinery made by parties in England and sold to cotton mill men in Boston and elsewhere. This machinery is said to be new in the United States, and therefore it is necessary that persons familiar with its construction should set it up and put it in operation. The men agree to leave this country immediately on completion of the work contracted for.

FORTY-FOUR pounds of apples make a bushel in Maine, while in Wisconsin fifty-seven are required; and a simiar disparity exists as to many other articles of trade. A satisfactory interstate commerce with different sized bushels is no more possible than with a currency having dollars of different values. The remedy for such absurd incongruities in the matter of measuring and weighing commodities is to be found in the metric system, the adoption of which has been reccommended by a committee of congress. There could be no better way of celebrating the dawn of a new century than by the inauguration of such a system.

THE senate joint resolution, directing the secretary of Agriculture to purchase and distribute seeds, bulbs, etc., as has been done in preceding years, has become a law without the president's signature, the resolution not having been returned to congress within the constitutional ten-day limit. Secretary Morton refused to carry out the old law, and vigorously opposed the passage of the present more mandatory act.

Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C., March 14, 1896 — President Cleveland is allowing the senators to monopolize the talk on the Cuban affairs, and they have certainly done a lot of it that was entirely unnecessary, this week, inasmuch as the acceptance of the report of the committee on foreign relations in favor of the senate accepting the house resolutions as a substitute for its own resolutions was a foregoing conclusion from the first. And talking wasn't the only unnecessary thing the senate did this week. While the report of its committee was pending it adopted a resolution calling on the president for all the information in his possession concerning the present state of affairs in Cuba Cuban affairs were discussed at the last cabinet meeting and there are rumors of the president having sent a trusted agent to Cuba to find out just how things are and of his intention to send a message to congress on the subject, but neither the president nor any member of his cabinet will talk about it, at least not for publication One thing can be set down as certain, Congress has been stampeded, but the administration will not be. Mr. Cleveland wants to know he is right before he takes the action that cannot be recalled, and which may cost the U. S. thousands of lives and millions of dollars.

The report of the majority of the senate election committee, written by Chandler of N. H., in favor of the resolution for investigating the election of the Alabama legislature that elected Senator Morgan exposes a Republican plot to get a majority in the senate by unfair means. Their purpose is to use the populists to help them pass this resolution. Then to have the investigation committee report in favor of unseating Senator Morgan, when the populists are again expected to join them in voting for the adoption of that report.

The Republicans in the house hope to get some campaign thunder out of the hearings which have been arranged by a sub-committee of the House committee on ways and means for next week. These hearings are announced to be for the purpose of ascertaining whether the reciprocity treaties and arrangements made by the late Mr. Blaine during the last Republican administration were of sufficient benefit to this country to make their renewal advisable, and what tariff and customs regulations in foreign countries are detrimental to an increase in our foreign business. As to the reciprocity treaties, the Democratic congress which repealed them ascertained by thorough investigation that this country received no benefit at all from the most of them and from the others so little that the whole business was thrown overboard. Unless I miss my guess these hearings will be followed by the same rose-colored newspaper fairy stories about reciprocity which were so plentiful when Mr. Blaine was working on the scheme.

Senator Morgan and Chandler made a very good imitation of a monkey out of Senator Hoar during the somewhat acid debate which followed Senator Hale's rather remarkable proceeding of having read a statement made by the Spanish minister, which accused three senators by name with having made untrue statements during the argument on the Cuban resolutions. Senator Hoar put in his oar by offering a resolution to postpone consideration of the report of the foreign relations committee until April 6th, and aggravated the matter by some sneering remarks at the expense of that committee for having agreed to a resolution that was binding upon nobody. Just when he was talking about the injustice of our meddling with the affairs of Spain and Cuba, Senator Morgan quietly upset the old gentleman by asking: "Where did you get the information upon which to sustain your earnest action regarding Armenia?" After Mr. Hoar had tried to reconcile his late position towards the Armenians with his present position towards the Cubans, to the great amusement of the senate and the crowded galleries, Senator Chandler read a telegram which Senator Hoar sent to the President, offering his support by speech and vote for the most vigorous measures against the Turks, even to treating them as pirates and enemies of the human race, and turning to Mr. Hoar, he said: "I suppose you intended to add, provided that nothing is done until after April 6th."

The anti option bill of Col. Hatch, which has been killed so often and which passed the house in the last congress and came near enough to being passed by the senate to badly frighten its opponents, is about to be killed once more. The house committee on agriculture has agreed to table the bill.

Senator Turpie's speech against the right of Dupont, of Del., to a seat in the senate is unanswerable from a legal and constitutional point of view. M.

Insured His Bride.

Gravenhurst, Ont., March 13.—Miss Katie Tough, 23 years old, was found dead in the street near her home here on Tuesday night. An investigation disclosed the fact that her death was due to a dose of prussic acid, and that half an hour before her body was found she had been seen with William Hammond, a drug clerk, to whom she had been secretly married four months ago. Hammond attempted to insure her life in a Buffalo insurance company while on their marriage trip, and it was also shown that her life had been insured in his favor for $3,000 in a St Thomas insurance company since their marriage. Hammond has been arrested, charged with being instrumental in causing the woman's death.

Fortune for a Flagman.

Cleveland, March 14.—The officials of the county infirmary have received information from England that John Francis, a pauper in the institution, has fallen heir to nearly $250,000. Francis, who is 65 years old, came to this country with his wife from England, a few years ago, and was for a time employed as a flagman by the Nickel Plate Railroad, but was dismissed for inattention to his work. Then his wife died, and he finally drifted to the poor house. Francis says he knew he was entitled to money in the old country, but long ago gave up ever getting it.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 18.—Saul Davis Selig, a Russian Jew peddler, aged 40 years, drove under the lowered gates of the Ridge avenue crossing of the Allentown Terminal railroad this evening and was struck by a Jersey Central passenger train. He and his horse were killed. His son Reuben, aged 10 years, had his skull crushed and will die.

Peru Buying Army Rifles.

LIMA, Peru, March 18.—The government has contracted to purchase 800 horses and 10,000 Mauser rifles for the army.

130 Persons Frozen.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 18.—During the recent snow storm in the province of Orel, 130 persons were frozen to death in one night.

Babies Burned to Death.

Baltimore, March 15.—H Schultz, a farmer, and his wife, tenants on the land belonging to St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, near Millersville, in Anne Arundel county, Md., locked their three little children in their frame house yesterday and went to work in the fields of a neighboring farm. Two babies, aged 8 and 18 months, were left asleep in a crib. The eldest child, aged 3 years, was toddling about the floor. The mother had thoughtlessly left matches on a chair beside her bed, and the little one evidently got hold of them and set fire to the bedding.

The wife of Rev. William Mumford, rector of the church, saw the flames and sent her servants to the rescue. They burst in the door of the burning house, but the crib was already in flames, and the two babes were literally roasted alive. At the risk of his own life the servant saved the 3 year-old child, but it is so badly burned that it cannot recover, having inhaled the flames The mother and father are crazed over their terrible loss, and it is feared the woman cannot survive the shock.

Off for Cuba.

New York, March 16.—Senor Juan N. Navarro, Consul-General of Mexico, has caused a sensation by admitting that the Bermuda has cleared for Vera Cruz through his office. In Cuban circles it is believed that Ruiz, as well as Garcia, accompanied the expedition. Ostensibly the Bermuda is bound for Vera Cruz, but the frigate will undoubtedly touch at Cuban ports, if the large stores of arms and ammunition in the hold are any evidence of its errand.

Packed securely in the hold are 500 boxes of cartridges, each box 18 inches square and 6 inches deep. Each box contained a gross of cartridges, or 72,000 in all. For arms 500 boxes of Creedmore rifles and a dozen large field pieces are expected to aid in securing Cuban independence. Both Spanish and Cuban officials here are extremely reticent with regard to the Bermuda's departure and destination. The vessel sailed shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning "Dynamite Johnnie," a veteran seadog, is said to be in command of the craft.

Set Fire to Her Clothes.

Woodbury, N. J., March 13.—Mrs. Joseph Featherer, of Bridgeport, committed suicide in a terrible manner this morning, and the community is horrified over the tragic affair. At 8 o'clock this morning she went to the cellar, and, pouring a quart of kerosene oil over her clothing set it on fire.

The smell of smoke and the roar of the flames attracted the attention of her daughter, Mrs. Allen, who called her father and rushed to the cellar. There she found her mother enveloped in a sheet of flame, which the combined efforts of herself and father failed to extinguish until her clothing was entirely consumed. The unfortunate woman lingered in agony until shortly after 10 o'clock, when she died. Both the husband and daughter were badly burned.

Mrs. Featherer had some years since spent some time in an insane asylum, and it is thought that a sudden return of her malady was the cause of her strange and horrible act.

Armour will Test the Law.

Altoona, Pa., March 16.—An agent of the state agricultural department today made an information against H. R. Hughes, manager of the wholesale meat house of Armour & Co., in this city, charging violation of the pure food law by selling oleomargarine. This is the first case of the kind brought against Armour in this state, and it is said he will test the legality of the law under which the suit is brought. The hearing has been set for Saturday next.

Parkersburg, W. Va., March 16.—seven merchants in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia have sued Internal Revenue Collector Gilkeson in the United States court in this city for $200 damages each, and it is alleged over 50 other suits will be brought. The suits grew out of the seizure of oleomargarine in the possession of Stolly & Bros., of Wheeling, and the enforcement of the payment of the government tax and penalty on 60 other merchants of the three states.

The Groom's Tight Shoes.

Frederick, Md., March 14.—A young couple from the country, who came here to be married to-day, had an embarrassing experience while in the presence of the minister, resulting from the effort of the groom to wear a pair of too tight shoes.

In the midst of the ceremony he suddenly reeled and fell to the floor in a dead faint. The circulation of his blood had been interrupted by the unusual shape and tightness of his gaudy foot gear. The anxious bride quickly stooped down and pulled one of his shoes off while the minister removed the other. The ceremony was then proceeded with, and at its conclusion the minister loaned the young benedict a pair of his own shoes, of ample dimensions, to go home in.

Holme's Lawyer Disbarred.

Philadelphia, March 14.—Lawyer William A. Shoemaker, who was senior counsel for H. H. Holmes, and who was charged with subordination of perjury in connection with that famous case, was to-day, by a decision of the Court of Oyer and Terminer suspended from the privileges of the court for one year.

Shoemaker got a woman to sign a false affidavit to the effect that Pitezel, the man murdered by Holmes, had, in her presence, expressed an intention to commit suicide. A great sensation was produced when Shoemaker offered this evidence in court in the course of his argument for a new trial for Holmes, and District-Attorney Graham exposed the conspiracy by means of which the evidence was obtained.

Postmaster Shoots Himself.

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Chief Post Office Inspector Wheeler has received a telegram from Inspector Sutton and Reed, inspecting Kansas City, Kan., office, reporting an apparent shortage of $8,900 in postal funds. Frank Mates, the postmaster, committed suicide this morning by shooting. Inspector Wheeler also received a telegram announcing the arrest of William Clarty, postmaster, and Robert J. Monigan, late postmaster at Purcell, I. T., for returning false rent vouchers. Bond was furnished in $2,000 each.

THE BEASTLY SPANISH

Morgan Produces Awful Evidence In the Senate.

FEARFUL ATROCITIES IN CUBA.

The Senator Expects Spanish Fanaticism to Drive Spain Into War With the United States—A Vote Soon Expected on the Cuban Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Cuban debate in the senate is drawing to a close and the expectation is that a final vote will be taken within a day or two. Mr. Sherman is keeping the question before the senate continuously, so that the speeches are not likely to last much longer. Mr. Mills (Tex.) and Mr. Platt (Conn.) are yet to be heard, but their remarks will not be lengthy.

Mr. Morgan (Ala.) occupied almost the entire session speaking in support of the resolutions. The senator severely arraigned Minister Dupuy de Lome of Spain for impropriety in criticising senators. He also recited many evidences of the severities and atrocities with which Spain was prosecuting the war. Mr. Morgan said he feared that the fanaticism of Spain would lead her to take up the gauge of war no matter how mild and proper the course of congress might be.

Mr. Morgan severely condemned the Spanish minister for criticising senators, but said he did not advocate his dismissal.

The senator then had the clerks read the reply of Gonzales Quesada, secretary of the Cuban junta, to the Spanish minister's letter. It related shocking details, as to indignities on naked Cuban women by Spanish troops and General Weyler, the branding of women on their breasts, the assaulting of defenseless women, etc.

Mr. Morgan read further evidence of Spanish cruelty in Cuba. One referred to the massacre of seven young men, who were stood against a wall and shot to pieces by a regiment of soldiers

Mr. Morgan read from personal letters received by him giving the experience of men in Cuba. The letters told of violations of girls and the massacre of women and children. A Cuban general was stripped of his clothes and exhibited before crowds of women, then killed and his body dragged a mile. A beautiful girl was torn from her mother and carried off by a Spanish officer. These atrocities were given with great minuteness, said to be the personal observation of the writers of the letters. Mr. Morgan said the writer was a graduate of the Virginia military academy Another letter was from a Philadelphian who recounted atrocities witnessed by him and another from Daniel Sickles, formerly United States minister to Spain.

Mr. Morgan said the letters disclosed the existence of a bloody war, and it was the duty of congress to recognize that condition of war as existing. The senator said he had received postal cards from the north bidding him to leave the country and console with the negro, Maceo. But he could not be diverted by the these insults, or by the attack of some newspapers which asserted he was seeking a war with Spain in order to bring about the restoration of silver coinage.

"I would rather be in a cabinet with Gomez and Maceo than with Balmaceda and General Weyler," declared Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Morgan said he believed the president should approve the course of congress, but if he did not congress would have discharged its duty to the people, and the responsibility would be left with the president.

Mr. Morgan said he did not wish to give Spain any cause of complaint, and he therefore favored the mild, firm resolutions now pending. "And yet," added the senator in closing, "I have not doubted that any action would cause this fanatical nation to take up the guage of war."

BIG INCREASE IN THE NAVY.

The Bill Provides For Four Battleships and Fifteen Torpedoboats.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The naval appropriation bill for the next fiscal year will contain the most liberal allowances for the increase of the navy carried by any bill since the war Four battleships and 15 torpedoboats was the decision of the committee on the question of new vessels, which had been the principal point of discussion in many meetings.

The Democrats fought hard to secure six battleships, but the Republicans stood well together and carried their point. The motion for six battleships was made by Mr. Cumming (N. Y) and was lost by a vote of 6 to 7, but one Republican voting for it.

The four battleships will be of 11,000 tons each, and the cost is not to exceed $3,750,000 each, exclusive of armament, which is thought to be an ample provision, as other ships of the same class have been built in recent years well within that figure. Five of the torpedoboats are to have a speed of 26 knots and to cost within $850,000 each; the other ten are to have a speed of 20 knots and their cost limit is $800,000 each.

STONE'S BILL FAVORED.

His Immigration Measure to Be Reported to the House.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The house committee on immigration has made a favorable report on Representative W. A. Stone's immigration bill. The bill provides that no alien shall be admitted to the United States without a certificate from a United States consul to the country from which he hails that he is eligible.

The McCall bill, which is attached as amended by the committee, excludes all males between the ages of 16 and 60 who are not able to read and write English or some other language. The original bill placed the age limits at 14 and 60 and applied to both sexes. The omission of females from its provision was decided upon to prevent the separation of families.

The Story Not Believed.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—No warrant can be found here for the statements coming from Caracas to the effect that a British fleet is about to make a hostile demonstration at La Guayara to enforce the collection of an indemnity for the ill treatment of a British officer at Uruan.

Rev. Dr. Brown Acquitted.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Rev Dr. Brown is acquitted of the charges of adultery and unministerial conduct.

Beware of Counterfeiters

Who infest the market and are the means of robbing sick people of their money, and what is of still greater consequence of not unfrequently aggravating the complaints under which they labor. It is an act of duty we owe to society to warn the people against these dangerous frauds. A little care on the part of the purchaser will protect them from imposition by bearing in mind these facts: Never buy where it is offered in bulk, (in kegs or jugs), as the genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are sold only in bottles having the handsome steel plate label displaying the combat between St. George and the Dragon, and having at the bottom a minature note of hand for one cent, bearing a facsimile of the signature of the president of the company. Over the cork is a metallic cap, on which is impressed the name of the article, together with a medellion head in the centre. Any person selling the counterfeit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters we shall not hesitate to bring to justice, as we never fail to convict.

COUGHS AND COLDS.

It soothes, quickly abates the cough, and renders expectoration easy.

Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use. Many who suppose their cases to be consumption are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50c. per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. Sold by Druggists.

—The Daily News is a new evening paper launched forth in Pittsburg on Monday and is a candidate for public favor. It is neatly gotten up, full of news, and sold for one cent, or three dollars a year. From its appearance and make-up, we predict that it will will win its way to prosperity.

—Dan Allen, an insane inmate of the almshouse, pried open the transom over the door of his room at an early hour on Tuesday morning and escaped and up to this time his whereabouts are unknown. On account of the inclemency of the weather it is feared he may have perished in the snow drifts.

—The Punxsutawney News says it is creditably informed that Mr. Ritner Hare, of near Smicksburg, Indiana county, has received the sum of $4,000 as compensation for damages received in the loss of his wife, who was killed in a railroad wreck this winter while on her way to visit her son in West Virginia.

—The executors of James J. Kaylor, deceased, will offer for sale at the late residence of the deceased, in Allegheny township, on Friday March 27th, 1896, at one o'clock, P. M., a large lot of household goods, farm products, implements, etc. Also at the same time the real estate will be offered for sale.

—Michael Ryan, aged 86 years, died in the almshouse on Monday from a complication of diseases incident to old age. The deceased was born in Wales, came to this country about thirty years ago and located at Johnstown, where he was employed as a laborer by the Cambria Iron company. Abot six wears ago he was admitted to the almshouse.

—Tony Odenach, an Italian laborer, employed at Lilly, was admitted to the Altoona hospital on Monday, suffering with a lasceration of the scalp and two black eyes. Tony says he asked his gang boss for his time and in reply got punched in the eye and a blow on the head with a shovel. The patient is sharpening his stiletto in anticipation of his recovery.

—Drink nothing without seeing it; sign nothing without reading it, and make sure that it means nothing more than it says; don't go to law unless you are forced to and have nothing to lose; in any business do not wade where you can't see the bottom; put no dependence in the lable on a dog; and count money before you receive it; see the sack before you buy what is in it, for he who buys in the dark asks to be cheated.

—We none of us realize that it is ourselves who change, and not the food that delighted us in our youth. Said a crusty, hard to please husband: "Wife, I wish you could make pies that would taste as as my mothers used to do." "Well, my dear, you run out and bring me in a pail full of water, a hodful of coal and an armful of wood, just as you used to for your mother, and mabe you will like my pies as well." He concluded the pies would answer the purpose just as they were.

—The Baltimore & Ohio is the oldest railroad in the country. It was chartered in 1827 as a horse car line between Baltimore and Ellicott City, Md. Three years later the first steam locomotive in the country ran over it. Peter Cooper, of New York, was the builder. Charles Carroll, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, was an incorporator of the B. & O., and laid its corner stone. In 1842, the road was completed to Cumberland and in 1872 to Connellsville and Pittsburg.

—About 10:30 o'clock on Friday morning William Crum, of Conemaugh, while at work in the Morrellville yard, had his left leg cut off on the Pennsylvania railroad, between the Fairfield and Bheam crossings. Mr. Crum was employed as a brakeman on the Conemaugh shifter, and was in the act of boarding a freight car that had been shifted onto one of the sidings by an engine, when he slipped and fell under the car, the wheels passed over his leg near the knee. The leg was afterwards amputated above the knee.

—A tourist who gave his name as William Henderson, on Saturday, went into the basement of the court house and finding an overcoat hanging on a hook appropriated it to his own use and decamped. It was not long, however, until the owner, Charles Davison, of this place, discovered its loss and had a warrant issued by 'Squire Jones, and on going to the depot, found the thief with the coat ensconced in a box car, ready to leave with the train. He was arrested and sent to jail to await trial at June court.

—Sister Mary died at the convent of Mercy, in Pittsburg, Wednesday, in her seventy-fifth year. Her name was Mary Anne Hughes, and she had spent fifty years in the convent. She was born in Loretto, this county, and, in 1846, before the college was established, entered St. Vincent's convent. After a probationary period she was transferred to St. Xavier's, and afterward went to Pittsburg. She was one of the pioneers of sisterhood in Western Pennsylvania. Her remains were taken to Beatty for interment.

—Mr. John Kelly, of Lilly, one of Cambria county's veteran railroad men, as well as one of her best citizens, has been confined to his home for several months with sickness. Mr. Kelly, in the early days of railroading, was employed on the Old Portage, and after that was abandoned took service with the Pennsylvania and served the company faithfully until his late sickness compelled him to lay off. We trust the approaching spring time may restore Mr. Kelly to his usual good health and that he may have a number of years yet in front of him.

—The Pittsburg Daily News, of Wednesday says: A little waif from Cambria county to-day found shelter for the time being in the Temporary Home of the Association for the Improvement of the Poor. Annie Claire was one of three children who through the Cambria county poor house were sent to the Children's Aid Society. They were sick, and were sent to the hospital. Annie recovered. In order to give the Children's Aid Society time to find a permanent shelter for the child, the Association for the Improvement of the Poor took her in charge.

—While walking to Carrolltown last Saturday a week, a young man named Dougherty, who works for Mark Huber, of near Hastings, attempted to cross a fence on James Westrick's farm, when a rail he stepped on broke, and throwing him foreward, a sharp piece of it penetrated his leg near the groin, piercing the femoral artery. He started for home but fainted from loss of blood. On regaining consciousness he attracted the attention of Mr. Westrick's sons and he was conveyed home. Dougherty's life was despaired of for a time, but he is now considered out of danger.

—It is stated that Ebensburg may be considered when the location of the annual encampment of the National Guard of Pennsylvania is selected. An examination of the country in the vicinity of Ebensburg has been made and it is said that several places in that locality could not be surpassed for completeness of natural advantages, good water, beauty of scenery, etc. The matter of railroad facilities and sidings near the camp will enter into the matter of selecting an encampment. In this particular Ebensburg may find herself somewhat deficient, but possibly it could be overcome. In many respects it would doubtless be a grand place to hold the encampment. The eastern part of the state has always had the division encampment, and if a suitable place can be found it should come further west this time.—Tyrone Herald.

—Mrs. Sarah Hagan, an aged and respected lady, died at the home of her son, Thomas W. Hagan, in Gallitzin, on Thursday afternoon of last week. Death was caused by infirmaties incident to old age. Deceased was born in Ballincasoren, County Derry, Ireland, in 1818. She is survived by a number of relatives in Gallitzin and in other parts of the county. Her remains were taken to Philadelphia Friday for interment.

—An unknown man was found frozen to death on Friday morning along the public road near River's Gap, in what is known as Jack's Corner, Bedford county, some six miles from Saxton. Deceased was first discovered by John Hines, who lives near the point where he was found, and his body was taken to Saxton where it awaits identification. Deceased was of a dark complexion, aged about 45 yeers, some 5 feet 8 inches in height and about 165 pounds in weight. He was well and clean-dressed and had some money on his persan, but no letters or other marks of identification.

—The Philipsburg Daily Journal, of Tuesday has a three-quarter column article on "Beulah—a deserted village," referring to our Beulah, in Cambria township. As the article is largely drawn from imagination its reproduction would be of little interest to our readers on account of its inaccuracies. For the information of our Philipsburg contemporary, however, we will say that there was a flourishing village at Beulah about the beginning of the present century, but on the location of the county seat at Ebensburg, Beulah's glory departed and a few old stone foundations were all that was left to mark the site of the village when the railroad down the Blacklick passed through the historic ground a couple of years ago. Beulah never had a session of court, and never had any public buildings, although tradition still points out the spot where the jail stood—which is simply an indication of how little reliance is sometimes to be placed in tradition.

Obituary.

Mr. John Kane, a well-known and highly esteemed citizen of Allegheny township, died at his home at Kaylor's station, on Tuesday morning, March 17th, aged 65 years, ten months and 1 day. The deceased was born in Munster township, resided all his life in Cambria county, and was respected by all who knew him as a good citizen and an upright man. He is survived by his wife and six children, three sons; John, of Latrobe; Andrew, of Beulah, and Albert, of Munster township; and three daughters; Mary, wife of T. H. Howell; Clara, wife of Philip Cronauer, both of Gallitzin, and Sarah, wife of Hugh Kiser, of Lilly. He is also survived by one brother and three sisters.

His remains were interred in St. Michael's cemetery at Loretto, on Thursday morning, after a High Mass of Requiem for the repose of his soul. May he rest in peace.

Mrs. Henry Funk, died at her home in Ebensburg, on Wednesday morning, March 18th, in the 75th year of her age. The deceased was a daughter of Edward Jones, deceased, an old settler of Blacklick township. She was married three times, her first husband's name being Rager; her second husband's name being Leidy, and her third husband being Mr. Henry Funk, of this place, who survives her; also four children by her first husband and five by her second husband. She is also survived by one brother, Philip Jones, of Blacklick township. The interment will take place to-day, (Friday,) when the funeral will leave the house at 9 o'clock, A. M., and proceed to the Dunkard cemetery at Mundy's, in Jackson township, the deceased having been a member of the Dunkard church.

Coal Operators Organize.

Philadelphia, March 18.—The bituminous coal operators of the Clearfield region met to-day at the office of the Berwind-White company and effected a district organization. John Lloyd, of Altoona, who has been chairman of the various preliminary meetings, was elected president, and a sub-committee was appointed to select the officers. All the Clearfield operators have identified themselves with the organization, which is for the purpose of regulating the local trade as well as giving it representation in the recently formed bituminous coal association, composed of the six districts shipping to tidewater.

The executive committee has fixed upon the prices for the coming year, and which will be put in effect April 1. The new prices are $3.35 per ton for Cumberland, Pocahontas and New River coal, free on board at Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News and Norfolk, with a differential of 15 cents a ton in favor of Clearfield and Beech Creek coal. The new prices are a considerable advance upon those that have prevailed for several years.

Valuable Oysters.

David Scruder, of Chest Springs, a former resident of this place, was arrested on Saturday night, on a charge of false pretense, preferred by James H. Gant, the proprietor of a restaurant on Julian street.

The trouble originated over two quarts of oysters which Mr. Gant alleges Scruder obtained from his daughter during his absence, without paying therefor, and on representations that were not correct. A warrant was issued and Constable Lloyd, of East ward, assisted by Mr. Frank Krug, and one or two others whom the officer called to his assistance, made the arrest and took Scruder before 'Squire Jones, where he entered bail in the sum of $300 for his appearance at court. By the time the case is over, after the time and services of the judge, jurors, witnesses, clerk of the court of quarter sessions, district attorney, court cryer, tipstaves, justice, constable and his assistants have been taken into consideration, the oysters will represent a par value of about five dollars each.

Get a Guarantee

The wise retail grocer will obtain a guarantee from the party from whom he makes purchases, that the goods bought are pure, and will stand the test of the new food law. To do other than this is to invite trouble. A safe rule to follow is to buy no goods the manufacturer is not willing to guarantee to the fullest extent. In order to assist the members, the association attorney has prepared a blank form of guarantee. These have been printed, and members can obtain a quantity of them free of cost, by application to the secretary. Any member purchasing goods, believing them to be pure, and having in his possession a signed guarantee from the party from whom the purchase is made, will be protected by the association. We urge upon all our members to insist upon the seller giving this assurance that the goods are all right, believing that this is the only safe course to pursue.—Grocer's Review.

Court Proceedings.

The following cases were disposed of in court last week in addition to those already reported:

Commonwealth vs. Dr. J. H. McCormick; selling liquor without license and selling liquor on Sunday. Jury found defendant guilty of the first charge and not guilty on the second. Motion for a new trial and sentence suspended until the motion for new trial is argued.

Catharine Finegan et al. vs. Pennsylvania Trust company, trustee, Enclid Coal & Coke company, Joseph Detrick and W. I. Stineman. Jury find for plaintiffs $16.50 against W. I. Stineman.

George Lulay et al. vs. Thomas Barnes. This is a dispute over the ownership of 68 acres of coal land in Susquehanna township. The case was tried a couple of years ago before Judge Longenecker, of Bedford county, while holding court here. Under the instructions of the court the jury then found for the defendant. It was afterwards taken to the supreme court when the judment was reversed. On Saturday afternoon the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the land claimed.

John Crook vs. Lorenzo Stull. The plaintiff claimed damages for being attacked by a vicious dog owned by the defendant. Jury find for the plaintiff the sum of $210.

Baptist Church Notes.

At an adjourned meeting of the Baptist church held for the purpose of considering the relation of pastor and people, it was decided by an overwhelming majority on March 8th, to extend the call to their present pastor, Rev. C. E. Parker, for another year and the clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Parker on his return from Vintondale, he being absent at the time. Last Sabbath morning, the 13th, the Rev. Parker preached on the "Relation of the Pastor to His People," showing conclusively from the scriptures the vital relation, duties and obligations of both pastor and people to one another after which Mr. Parker then announced that after having given due consideration to their action one week since, he had concluded to act favorably toward their request and continue his labors among them.

Beginning with Monday the 23d of March, a series of evangelistic meetings will be held in the Baptist church, in this place, by Rev. J. B. McClure and wife, (singing Evangelists,) as follows: Daily 3 P. M., Bible readings and 7:15 P. M., song service and preaching.

An invitation is extended to all to come and bring their friends to any or all of the above services.

FRANCE IS DISPLEASED.

England's Intended Soudan Campaign Proves Irritating.

A WARNING NOTE IS SOUNDED.

M. Berthelot Questions the British Ambassador and Points Out the Serious Consequences, Which May Follow—Russia Has No Sympathy With England.

PARIS, March 18.—The French government, up to this time, has not defined its position toward the British proposal to dispatch an Egyptian expedition up the Nile.

There is reason to believe that the proposal came as a surprise to the French government. French statesmen had been entertaining the hope that an opening of negotiations was near at hand looking to the evacuation of Egypt by the British troops.

Next to the sovereignty of Germany over Alsace-Lorraine, probably the greatest source of irritation known to French diplomacy is the British occupation of Egypt. The present move on Great Britain's part is doubly irritating, coming as a check to the hopes the French statesmen had allowed themselves to entertain.

The first intimation has come of the probable course which France will take in view of the new conditions in Egypt. A sensation has been caused by the announcement made by M. Berthelot minister of foreign affairs, in the cabinet meeting that he had asked the British ambassador, the Marquis of Dufferin, for information regarding the proposed advance of British-Egyptian troops up the Nile and had pointed out to him the serious consequences of such an advance. This warning note may be a preliminary to more decided steps.

The government's semi-official statement further announces that Great Britain's explanation that the advance is necessary in the interest of Egypt "is viewed with suspicion by France."

France is not deciding upon the course she will pursue without a full understanding with her Russian ally, and it is announced that numerous telegrams have passed between Paris and St. Petersburg today on the subject. It is understood here that Great Britain also sounded the Russian government before announcing the Egyptian program. But the action of the czar in conferring upon the Negus Menelik the military order of St. George is accepted as peremptory notice that Russia has no sympathy with Great Britain's plans for aiding and relieving the Italians in Africa.

The apprehensions aroused in France by a British campaign up the Nile extend beyond Egypt, beyond Dongola and Khartoum and into Central Africa and the sources of the Nile, where French colonial expansion has been as active or more active than it has been in Tonking and up the Mekong. This French expansion threatens to absorb the valley of the Nile itself and to push on to the borders of the Italian possessions in Ethiopia, thus forming an obstruction between British Uganda and Egypt. Great Britain has viewed these encroachments with impatience and French observers do not fail to note that even Liberal members of the British parliament express the belief that Lord Salisbury is looking to reoccupying the Soudan and opening a way to the British possessions in South Africa.

The vast territory eastward of Lake Tschad including the Mohammedan states of Baghuiri, Wadai and Darfour have also been rapidly brought under French influence and from another point of vantage for advance into the Nile valley.

France fears that the Egyptian advance to Dongola covers a British advance to Khartoum to Uganda and an interference with her prosperous colonial expansion in Central Africa. The British occupation of Egypt is sufficiently galling in itself but more so in its threats to French plans in Africa beyond Egypt.

A Cairo special says: Sir H. H. Kitchener, the brigadier general in command of the Egyptian forces, has been definitely appointed to command the British-Egyptian expedition, which will advance on April 1 from Wady Halfa upon the Nile toward Dongola.

Slatin Pasha, formerly an officer of the Austrian and Egyptian armies, and who recently escaped from Omdurman after having been nearly 17 years in captivity in the Soudan, will take part in the expedition.

JAMESON HAD INSTRUCTIONS.

A Witness Tells of a Letter Referred to on the Raid.

LONDON, March 18.—The examination of Dr. S. L. Jameson, the raider of the Transvaal, and his companions charged, under the foreign enlistment act, with "warring on a friendly state," has been resumed.

Trooper Hill of the Matabeleland mounted police testified to hearing Dr. Jameson making a speech at Pitsani to the men who were to compose the expeditionary column. According to Hill Dr. Jameson told the troopers they were going to Johannesburg in order to protect the English women and children, whose lives were in danger.

Replying to a question the witness said that Dr. Jameson, while addressing the troopers, referred frequently to a letter which he held in his hand and which appeared to contain instructions as to the conduct of the expedition.

A letter from Johannesburg, dated Dec. 20, and appealing to Dr. Jameson to assist the Uitlanders against the oppression of the Boers was introduced in evidence. A dispatch sent by Sergeant White, with orders to overtake Dr Jameson, and recalling the raiders was also introduced, after which the hearing was adjourned for a week.

WANAMAKER ON ARMENIA.

He Declares the Necessity For Relief Is Appalling.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—A cablegram from the Hon. John Wanamaker has been received in this city relative to the sitation in Armenia. It is from Phillippopole as follows: "I am convinced that the necessity is appalling. Needs for relief are extremely urgent. Highly approve your methods of distribution through Mr. Peel. Remit generously and promptly directly to him."

When Mr. Wanamaker sailed for Europe in Jan. the citizens' permanent relief committee of this city, which has thus far collected and distributed $10,000, arranged that during his stay in Constantinople he should inquire into the Armenian situation, and the committee's plans for the distribution of moneys collected in Philadelphia for the relief of the sufferers and give the committee the benefit of his conclusions. The moneys collected for Armenia are remitted to Mr. Peel in Constantinople.

A SUCCESSOR TO SATOLLI.

He Is Archbishop Averardi and Is Now In This Country.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Cardinal Satolli, one of the greatest of the princes of the Romish church and papal delegate to this country, will say farewell to America forever and sail for Rome early in May.

The man who in all probability will succeed the cardinal is already here. He is Archbishop Averardi, titular of the ancient see of Tarsus in Asia Minor, and is one of the ablest of the younger dignitaries of the church.

To Play the Olympic Games.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 18.—The members of the Princeton athletic team, which will represent America at the Olympian games, to be held in Athens from April 5 to April 15, will sail on Saturday by the North German Lloyd steamship Fulda.

INTERNATIONAL BIMETALLISM.

Moves In Three European Countries Looking to a Conference.

PARIS, March 18.—M. Meline, the French protectionist leader in the chamber of deputies, has presented a motion that the government open negotiations for the bringing about of an international monetary agreement.

In the house of commons the motion of Mr. Whitely has been adopted, which recites that it is the opinion of the house that the instability in the relative value of gold and silver since the action of the latin union in 1873 had proved injurious to the best interests of the country and it urges upon the government the advisability that they do their utmost to secure an international agreement.

A Brussels special says: In the senate the premier, P. de Smet de Naeyer, has reiterated the views which he expressed in the chamber of deputies on March 13, when, replying to a question on the subject, he urged the re-establishment of international bimetallism and assured the chamber that the government would acquiesce in any measure insuring by international agreement the stability of the monetary exchange of gold and silver.

CANALS WON'T CONSOLIDATE.

A Denial of a Panama and Nicaragua Canal Combine.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Mr. Nelson Cromwell, the American counsel of the new Panama Canal company of Paris, referring to recent statements to the effect that a consolidation of the Panama and Nicaragua companies had been agreed upon or was under negotiation, made the following statement:

"I have just filed with Secretary of State Olney a formal declaration in behalf of the new Panama Canal company that there does not exist, nor is there in contemplation, any agreement, arrangement or plan for the consolidation or acquisition of the Panama company with or by the Nicaragua company, under any form of ownership or control; and that there has not been any negotiation to that end.

THREE FILIBUSTERS SENTENCED

Captain and Mates of the Horsa Given Terms and Fined.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18—The officers of the Danish steamer Horsa, who were recently convicted of carrying an armed expedition to the Cuban insurgents, have been sentenced by Judge Butler in the United States district court.

Captain J. H. S. Wiborg was sentenced to one year and four months in the Eastern penitentiary and to pay a fine of $300 and costs. The mates, Jens P. Petersen and Hans Johansen were each sentenced to eight months in the county prison and to pay fines of $100 and costs each. The motion for a new trial was overruled.

Important X Ray Discoveries.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Several important discoveries have been made in connection with X rays by Stephen H. Emmens of this city, who claims to have succeeded in obtaining the rays from the ordinary sunbeam and has taken excellent pictures therewith. He has also, he believes, succeeded in reflecting the X rays, which heretofore have been considered impossible of reflection.

Henry C. Bowen's Will.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The will of Henry C. Bowen has been filed for probate. It gives to his widow for life most of his property, real and personal, which, after her death, shall become part of his residuary estate. It creates trust funds for her and the children. The Independent is to be kept in the family.

A Coal Pool Formed.

COLUMBUS, March 18.—About 50 coal operators and shippers from Ohio find Western Pennsylvania have formed a percentage pool on lake shipments of coal. The Ohio coal operators get 40 per cent and Pennsylvania operators 60 per cent of the trade. Prices will be advanced about 25 cents on the ton and the miners will share in the advance.

Doing Missionary Work For Quay.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—W. H. Andrews, ex-chairman of the Republican state central committee of Pennsylvia, is in the city. The local newspapers say Andrews' mission is to ascertain how the west would view the nomination of Senator Quay for the presidency.

Rev. Dr. Brown Cleared of One Charge.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17. — The council that is sitting in judgment on the Rev. Dr. Brown has acquitted the accused pastor on one charge. After a long debate the councilmen came to the conclusion that Dr. Brown was not guilty of any immoral conduct with Mrs. M. A. Stockton.

Spanish Newspapers Hopeful.

MADRID, March 18.—All the Spanish newspapers are unanimously recognizing the reaction against jingoism which has taken place in the United States senate. It is felt now that all danger of hostilities is over, unless some unfortunate event should occur.

Day Taken to Cincinnati.

BOSTON, March 18.—Colonel Merritt H. Day, who was arrested in his office here on the charge of obtaining $14,000 by alleged false pretenses from Joseph Rhodes and Joseph Magrue in Cincinnati in July, 1892, has been taken back to Cincinnati.

A REAR END COLLISION

Two Killed and Eight Injured on the Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, March 18.—Two persons have been killed and eight others were more or less injured in a collision on the Pennsylvania railroad near Steelton.

The dead are: Samuel Welsh, engineer, and Lee Strouse, fireman, both of Philadelphia.

The list of injured is as follows: Melbourne Fielding, aged 30, of Philadelphia, an electrician, suffered an abrasion of the knee; Peter Donelson, Whitmore, McKean county, Pa., returning to Sweden, a laborer, mild contusion of the body; Harry Henson of No. 1 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street, New York, on his way home from Pittsburg, wound over the left eye and punctured wound of left knee; John Van Heest, Philadelphia, punctured wound of right leg and abrasion over the right ear; W. R. Gracey, Philadelphia, abrasion of the nose; James Costello of McDonald station, Pa., contusion and other injuries; H. Kranse, Akron, O., internal injuries.

The wreck was caused by the stock train pulling out on the passenger track and was struck sidewise. The passenger train was made up of two coaches and a Pullman sleeper. A number of the stock cars were badly wrecked and sheep killed. A number of other passengers were slightly hurt, but continued on their journey. Van Heest and Gracey, who were among the injured, are will known pugilists.

McCormick Will Bring Suit.

HARRISBURG, March 18. — Attorney General McCormick will bring suit against a number of street railway companies for neglect to file a report of their operations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895. These corporations are liable to a penalty of $5,000 each for failure to comply with the law requiring them to make report annually to the internal affairs department.

Leach Wants Quay's Place.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—Frank Willing Leach has announced himself as a candidate for chairman of the Republican state committee to succeed Senator Quay, who will not accept a re-election. Mr. Leach is now the chairman of the executive committee of the state committee. In an interview Mr Leach expressed himself hopeful of Senator Quay's support.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATORS QUIT.

Sixty Days of Fruitless Session Ended. Shooting Scrape Nearly Resulted.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 18.—The legislature has adjourned after sixty days of disgraceful bickering. The legislature failed to accomplished the two important acts it had before it—the election of a United States senator and the enactment of legislation to save the state's financial reputation.

Governor Bradley has refused to order a special session and the state is in a bad way. The senate special committee backed down and offered a report very mild when the threats to unseat the governor are considered.

In the house a resolution was passed denouncing the alleged lawlessness and indorsing Governor Bradley to the end. The troops left today.

Lieutenant Governor Worthington has issued a call for a special election April 11 to fill the vacancy in the senate caused by Senator Weissinger's death. Senator Walton and Senator James will resign and the governor will order a special election, refusing to recognize their expulsion by the senate.

The free silver campaign was opened by the Blackburn people in the opera house last night. Senator Blackburn made a vigorous speech, claiming that the failure to elect a senator was a remarkable victory for free silver.

The common council at its meeting passed a resolution indorsing Governor Bradley's conduct and denouncing the indignation meeting called by Mayor Julian, as largely controlled by nonresidents and not representatives of the people of Frankfort.

A personal encounter that would certainly have resulted in the death of either or both men had it not been for the intervention of General P. Wat Hardin and others has occurred just outside the Capitol hotel between Colonel E. H. Gaither, a Republican senator, and Jack Chinn, a Blackburn man.

THE TARIFF NEXT SESSION.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The house has passed the bill to amend the administrative tariff act of 1890 and passed it without substantial amendment. The purpose of the bill is to strengthen the act of 1890.

During the debate Mr Johnson (Rep., Cal.), asked Mr. Payne why the ways and means committee had not reported a bill reforming the tariff schedules. "If we were simply playing to the galleries," replied Mr. Payne, "we might bring in such a bill knowing it could not become a law. I hope to join with the gentleman from California in the Fifty-fifth congress in the enactment of a law that will furnish ample protection to American industries."

Wisconsin Republican Convention.

MILWAUKEE, March 18.—The Republican state convention, which convened in this city at noon today, will adopt a resolution indorsing William McKinley of Ohio for the Republican nomination for president and declaring that he is the unanimous choice of the party in Wisconsin. Resolutions will also be adopted strongly affirming the policy of protection to American industries as exemplified in the McKinley tariff bill and declaring for sound money.

The River and Harbor Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—It is expected that the river and harbor bill will be reported to the house within a few days. The first estimate of the bill was about $12,000,000, but it is now understood that the bill will not of itself appropriate more than $10,000,000, but will put a large number of projects under the continuing contract system.

Affects Many Pension Applications.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The senate committee on pensions has authorized a favorable report on Senator Gallinger's bill accepting the fact that a soldier was accepted and mustered in at the time of his enlistment as proof of soundness of body and mind. The bill affects a large number of pension applications.

A Pennsylvania Delegate For McKinley.

YORK, Pa., March 18.—The Republican county convention has elected R. H. Shindel delegate to the St. Louis convention. The resolutions instruct Shindel to vote for McKinley and also instruct the four delegates to the state convention not to support Senator Cameron for delegate-at-large.

"I am a Living Witness of the Wonderful and Miraculous Effects of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

2939 Washington Street,
ROXBURY, MASS., April 20, 1895.

To All Sick Women:

I feel it my duty to publish the wonderful help Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been to me.

I was like a crazy person; could not eat or sleep; there was no rest for me day or night.

Physicians examined me and said an operation was necessary. Before undergoing it, however, I determined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound. I am so glad I did, for it cured me. I am a well woman now, and can do any kind of work.

I want this published throughout the land, so that all my suffering sisters may read, and if in any way affected with female troubles they may be induced by my sincere statement to try this wonderful Vegetable Compound and be cured.

MRS. MARGARET BAMFORD.

Intelligent women no longer doubt the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They openly acknowledge that it does positively cure the multitude of painful ailments peculiar to women. Druggists everywhere sell it.
